

No. 01-05-2011

Social Health Insurance as a Strategy for Health Care Financing

Course Duration: 5 days

Schedule: March 28 to April 1, 2011; May 30 to June 3, 2011 and every last week of the month and when there are at least 10 confirmed participants

Target: Mid-level officers involved in health care financing, national development planning, social welfare, health, labor, poverty-reduction, and legislation. It is also ideal for graduate students in economics, specializing in health protection, social inclusion and health economics.

Minimum of 10, maximum of 18 participants

Covers:

- * Health Care Financing Principles and Practices
- * Social Health Insurance Program in the Philippines
- * Actuarial Considerations for a Social Health Insurance Program
- * Marketing Social Health Insurance
- * Funding a Social Health Insurance Program
- * Designing Social Health Insurance Benefit

Tuition Fee:

- * For foreign participants: US $1,000 per participant, inclusive of lunch and two snacks per day, training kit, and cost of field trips
- * For local participants, please contact PhilHealth Training Institute

Accommodation: Please contact any of the hotels in our list.

Medium of Instruction: English

Scholarship: Participants are encouraged to secure their own funding from any relevant Development Agency

Contact: CHONA SIENES-YAP, Training Director, PhilHealth Training Institute
yapchon@philhealth.gov.ph
OSCAR V. BANIAS, Course Director baniaso@philhealth.gov.ph or training_institute@philhealth.gov.ph.

DR. REY B. AQUINO
President and CEO