Ventaja International Corporation Now Accredited as PhilHealth's Collecting Agent for OFW Premium Contributions

Land-based Overseas Filipino Workers (OFWs) who are registered with PhilHealth may now pay their premium contributions to Ventaja International Corporation through their remittance tie-ups or partners abroad.

Official Receipts issued by Ventaja International Corporation shall be honored as proof of PhilHealth premium payments for benefit availment or contribution verification.

Initially, Ventaja International Corporation and its tie-ups or partners shall only accept payments for renewal of coverage and will require OFW members to present their PhilHealth Identification Number (PIN) and any document as proof of their being active OFWs (i.e ID issued by employer abroad or host country, passport with valid working visa or re-entry permit, latest employment contract or certificate, valid OEC) when paying their premium contribution.

OFWs may verify their PIN through the following contact information:
